

TREDYFFRIN & EASTTOWN CARE

Nominate a 'hero' for annual Fall Fest Nov. 11

Tredyffrin & Easttown Care is an all-volunteer, local non-profit that lends assistance to families in and around our communities who are struggling in some way. At this year's annual Fall Fest fundraiser (on Nov. 11, Veteran's Day) they will be saluting and celebrating those people who are Everyday Heroes. Everyday Heroes are those individuals or groups who, through their past or ongoing actions and leadership, make positive contributions to the lives of all those in our communities.

They are asking the community to submit names and a brief explanation on what makes each person a hero - it's pretty simple! Send hero names to hero@tecare.org.

The names of all heroes will be included in the materials presented at the Fall Fest, as well as on the T&E Care website afterwards. Fall Fest chairs, Melissa Acton and MJ Chiles said, "This is just a small way to honor the heroes in our lives. If a person has made a difference in your life, then he/she is worth recognizing.

Whether it's the bus driver that waits that extra minute for your child, a friend who delivers meals to the ill, or a veteran that has served our country - this is our opportunity to say, 'what you do matters.' It only takes one person to be the difference in a life and be a hero."
